

The Daily Courant.

Monday, January 14. 1723.

London, January 14.
Yesterday arrived a Mail from Flanders.

Malta, November 23.

TH E two Gallies belonging to the Order came in hither the 11th Instant from Siracusa, with a small Tunis Prize they took off Cape Passaro, having on board the Chevalier Don Vincenzo Ruffo, Nephew of the General of the Gallies, who died of the Wound he received in the Engagement, when he leapt from his Post to go and encourage the Soldiers and Seamen who began to grow weary of the Fight; he was wounded under his Breast, and had besides two Ribs broke; the Surgeon carefully probed his Wound, and found it mortal; the dying Chevalier had the Consolation of being attended by the Reverend Father Provincial of the Capuchins, and by three Fryars of that Order, on board the Galley, together with the Chaplain, who never abandoned him till he gave up his Soul to Heaven. At the Ship's Entrance to the Port, the Corpse was laid upon a Bier, placed in the Middle of the Poop, where the rest of the Knights sang the Office for the Dead; afterwards, six of them conveyed the Body upon their Shoulders to its Interment, in a little Church without the Fortifications of the City. The Grand Master uses his utmost Application in causing the new Works to be finished, that the Island may be able to elude the Efforts of the Turks; he has received Information from his Correspondents at Constantinople, that the Naval Armament fitting out by the Porte is to consist of above 50 Ships of the Line, besides Transports, the Ships of Tunis, Algiers, Tripoly, and that all of them are destin'd for this Island next Summer.

Florence, Dec. 25. This Court is going into Mourning for the Death of the late Dutchess Dowager of Orleans. — The Senate's Resolution for maintaining its Liberty and Independence after the Extinction of the Family de Medicis, is very pleasing to the neighbouring Republicks, who by that Means hope to preserve their own Freedom.

Leghorn, Dec. 25. Provence and other Countries of France that were infected, continuing in good Health, 'tis hoped that the Tribunal of Health will re-establish Commerce between this City and those Countries. A Ship from Marseilles is arrived here having a Certificate of Health, and 'tis not doubted but she will be soon followed by several others.

Moscow, Dec. 21. At length News is received here of the Czar's being at Casritz, and an Officer is sent thither from hence to order Post-Horses on the Roads his Majesty is to pass on his Journey hither. Some Letters intimate his being already arrived at Veronitz, to view the Vessels that are building there.

Stockholm, Dec. 30. M. Bessuchef, the Czar's Minister, has presented a Memorial to this Court, demanding a Guard of Soldiers before his House, in like Manner as is granted to the Swedish Minister in Muscovy; but 'tis questioned whether this can be allowed, because none of the other foreign Ministers here have any, and the Custom of defraying their Expenses on either side is abolished by the Treaty of Neustadt. A Medal has been lately struck here on the Peace between this Court and Moscow; on one side is represented the King, and on the other a Woman leaning upon a Pillar holding an Horn of Plenty under her left Arm, and an Olive Branch in her Right Hand. A Countryman is represented on the Exergue with this Motto, Ferrum splendet arando; i. e. The Iron brightens by Plowing; and underneath — Paxis Armis Nyctadit Anno 1721; i. e. The Peace concluded at Neustadt in the Year 1721.

Madrid, Jan. 4. On the 29th past in the Evening and 30th in the Morning the King went to the Royal Chapel and was present at the Anniverlay Devotions performed on the Festival of Sant Jago; the Knights of that Order assisted there likewise in their Habits of Ceremony. The 30th their Catholick Majesties gave publick Audience to the Marquess de Maulevrier Ambassadors of France, who appeared dressed in deep Mourning, wearing a long Black Cloak, on Occasion of the Death of the late Dutchess Dowager of Orleans, which he notified in this Audience to their Catholick Majesties, who thereupon altered the Time of this Court's going into Mourning on the 7th Instant, by appointing it to begin on the 31st past. The Princess of Asturias's Indisposition continuing, strict Orders have been given not to let any Coach pass near the Palace-Court, lest the Noise might disturb her; but having been twice let Blood, and used other Remedies, she is now much better. The Royal Family's Journey to the Pardo remains fixt to the 7th Instant, from whence they go to Balsain, and set out afterwards for Burago, the Place appointed for their receiving Mademoiselle de Beaujolois.

Vienna, Jan. 2. On the 31st past, the Privy-Council was summoned to deliberate concerning the Emperour's Journey to Prague, to which the Aulick Council has not yet given its Resolution. — The Emperour has sent Orders to Presbourg to hasten the Conclusion of the principal Affairs before the States of Hungary, his Imperial Majesty being resolved to go thither in a little while to put an End to the Dyet, which stands that Kingdom in immense Sums. Yesterday being New-Year's-Day, the Emperour and Empress received the usual Compliments from all the Nobility of both Sexes, and Foreign Ministers.

Dantzick, Jan. 6. Prince Dolhorucky, the Czar's late Ambassador at the Court of France, arrived here the 2d Instant, and had a long Conference the next Day with the Duke of Mecklenbourg; He designs shortly to proceed on his Journey to Moscow.

Paris, Jan. 16. The King is expected at the Tuilleries about the 8th or 10th of next Month, and 'tis thought will not return to Versailles till some Days after his Majority: His Majesty proposes to see the Opera and Ball, and the Diversions of the Fair of St. Germain, where he has not yet been. — Letters from Rome of the 26th of December, N. S. advise, that the Turks have forced the Republick of Ragusa, to pay in ready Money all the Arrears of the Annual Tribute due from them to the Porte; and that the said Republick publick makes Instances to the Court of Rome, that the Ecclesiasticks of their City and State may be obliged to an equal Proportion with the Seculars.

A New Theory of Consumptions: More especially of a Phthisis, or Consumption of the Lungs. Wherein, after a brief History of the Distemper, its various Symptoms throughout its several Degrees, and every minute Step it takes, from its first invading the Patient, to its final Termination, Enquiry is made concerning the Prime, Essential, and hitherto accounted Inexplicable Cause of this Distemper, so very Endemic to this Nation, and generally fatal to those it seizes on. With an Account of the great Number of Medicines, and various Methods of Cure recommended for Consumptions, and the differing Opinion of Authors concerning them. Also the Possibility of healing Ulcers in the Lungs asserted, the strongest Objections against it answer'd, and a different and more probable Method of Cure advanc'd, than commonly practis'd. Likewise Directions about Eating, Drinking, Sleeping, Exercise, and Way of Living in general, proper for Consumptive Persons. By Benjamin Marten, M. D. Printed for R.
